The performance presented represents past performance and is not a guarantee of future results. Total return assumes reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions. Investment return and principal value will vary so that, when redeemed, an investor's shares may be worth more or less than their original cost. Returns and expenses for other classes of shares will vary. The Selected International Fund is subject to a 2% short-term redemption fee for shares held for fewer than 30 days. The total annual operating expense ratios may vary in future years. Returns and expenses for other classes of shares will vary. Current performance may be higher or lower than the performance quoted. From the date that Davis Advisors first began managing the Fund (May 1, 1993) until May 1, 2011, Selected International Fund was named Selected Special Shares and invested primarily in domestic equity securities. The Fund invests primarily in foreign equity securities and the past performance of the Fund is unlikely to be relevant to future performance. The performance of Selected International Fund benefited from IPO purchases in 2010 and 2014. After purchase, the IPOs rapidly increased in value. Davis Advisors purchases shares intending to benefit from long-term growth of the underlying company; the rapid appreciation of the IPOs were unusual occurrences. Objective and Risks. Selected American Shares' investment objective is capital growth and income. In the current market environment, we expect that income will be low. Selected International Fund's investment objective is capital growth. There can be no assurance that the Funds will achieve their objectives. Some important risks of an investment in the Funds are: common stock risk: an adverse event may have a negative impact on a company and could result in a decline in the price of its common stock; depository receipts risk: depository receipts may trade at a discount (or premium) to the underlying security and may be less liquid than the underlying securities listed on an exchange; emerging market risk: securities of issuers in emerging and developing markets may present risks not found in more mature markets; fees and expenses risk: the Fund may not earn enough through income and capital appreciation to offset the operating expenses of the Fund; financial services risk: investing a significant portion of assets in the financial services sector may cause the Fund to be more sensitive to systemic risk, regulatory actions, changes in interest rates, non-diversified loan portfolios, credit, and competition; foreign country risk: foreign companies may be subject to greater risk as foreign economies may not be as strong or diversified; foreign currency risk: the change in value of a foreign currency against the U.S. dollar will result in a change in the U.S. dollar value of securities denominated in that foreign currency; headline risk: the Fund may invest in a company when the company becomes the center of controversy. The company's stock may never recover or may become worthless; large-capitalization companies risk: companies with $10 billion or more in market capitalization generally experience slower rates of growth in earnings per share than do mid- and small-capitalization companies; manager risk: poor security selection may cause the Fund to underperform relevant benchmarks; mid- and small-capitalization companies risk: companies with less than $10 billion in market capitalization typically have more limited product lines, markets and financial resources than larger companies, and may trade less frequently and in more limited volume; and stock market risk: stock markets have periods of rising prices and periods of falling prices, including sharp declines. See the prospectus for a complete description of the principal risks. As of June 30, 2017, Selected American Shares had approximately 12.0% of assets invested in foreign companies.
